Rhodes State College Paramedic Program Receives Initial Accreditation

LIMA, Ohio – Rhodes State College is proud to announce that its Emergency Medical Technician-Paramedic Program has received initial accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP) through September 30, 2019.

“This national accreditation and milestone for the EMS program at Rhodes State assures students and the community that the program has met rigorous standards and has achieved outcome thresholds which demonstrate continuous quality improvement,” said Tish Hatfield, Dean, Division of Allied Health, at Rhodes State College.

The CAAHEP accreditation assures that students who complete the Paramedic Certification program at Rhodes State will be eligible to sit for the National Registry of EMT certification exam at the Paramedic Level.
