

Foundations for the 21st Century Supervisor

The Supervisor as Leader

Tues., September 13, 2011 — 8am to 12pm

Explore leadership in the 21st century: competencies and skill sets. You will also learn about the power, potential and assessment of leadership style and discuss implications of style differences. Learn the four things every leader MUST know (as should their employees), how to seek alignment: knowing where and how to impact critical business results. Discuss “leadership vs. supervision” and why both are critical. Finally, create a development/action plan.

The Terrible T’s of Change

Thurs., October 20, 2011 — 8am to 12pm

Create a change plan: the key steps in a never-ending cycle of continuous change. Discuss turf ... how leadership crosses boundaries and barriers and how to counter the turf and territorial games employees play. Learn trust, tradition, transition—the human side of change, and finally how to overcome resistance to change.

Communication Basics

Thurs., November 17, 2011 — 8am to 12pm

You will learn about the basic communication model: Sender/receiver, Message, Medium and Biases, assumptions and filters. Discover what people REALLY pay attention to and practice active listening skills.

Motivation and Morale

Thurs., January 19, 2012 — 8am to 12pm

Explore the concept of motivation and why morale is critical in an increasingly competitive and chaotic business environment. Learn why people do what they do (or don't do what they should). Discuss factors that influence behavior: people, processes, systems. Discover what people need to commit, how to sell your ideas to get buy-in and how to create pride in work through empowerment and ownership.

Situational Leadership

Thurs., February 16, 2012 — 8am to 12pm

Examine basic principles of situational leadership from both the supervisor and employee's perspectives. You will learn how to use it in day-to-day interactions through coaching, feedback, delegation and development.

Dealing with Conflict and Confrontation

Thurs., March 15, 2012 — 8am to 12pm

You will learn how to understand your conflict management beliefs and styles, as well as others'. Work with different styles that implicate performance, morale and team collaboration. Explore how to break the cycle of conflict and its escalation. What are the supervisor's responsibilities? Learn how to handle difficult, uncomfortable and sensitive conversations.

Generation Management

Thurs., April 19, 2012 — 8am to 12pm

Look at workplace generations—Pre-Boomer, Baby Boomer, Gen X, Millennials and Twenty-Somethings/Generation Now/Generation Why/GenerationM—across the performance management cycle. Discover what each wants from their supervisors, jobs and the workplace.

Making Meetings Work

Thurs., May 17, 2012 — 8am to 12pm

Learn how to perceive the meeting as team building and communication. Discover the thinking and planning behind the meeting to decide when, where and how often to meet. Discover how to develop a useful meeting agenda and learn how to effectively conduct the meeting. Establish meeting roles and meeting behaviors (supportive and dysfunctional).
