

PATHWAY

from Rhodes State College to Ohio State Lima in Early Childhood/Primary Education

Bachelor of Science in Education

The Early Childhood Education program at Rhodes State College provides a seamless transfer pathway to earning your Bachelor of Science in Education.

Early Childhood Education

The Ohio State University at Lima offers a Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood/Primary Education leading to State of Ohio teacher licensure in grades preschool through five. Students enrolled in education programs benefit from small class sizes with a significant level of interaction between students, Ohio State Lima professors and field supervisors. Qualifying students are placed in area school districts for field participation courses at every level of the program. Placements are varied, giving students valuable experience in school districts in both rural and urban settings. Ohio State Lima strives to prepare diversity-responsive educators who are capable of meeting the needs of all students.

Key Program Requirements

- Must be a graduate of Rhodes State College in early childhood education
- Must have a 2.75 GPA or greater in order to apply to the early childhood/primary education major
- Students may apply to the university and the education major the spring semester of their graduating year
- Must be eligible to enroll in Ohio State's Math 1135 (R) autumn semester.
